Alleged Election Fraud. ARREST OF THREE ELECTION INSPECTORS—EXAMINATION BEFORE THE FOLICE MAGISTRATE.

A complaint having been made before Justice Stuart.

by Mr. Alexander Gedney, against Hugh Mooney, Wil-liam Murray and William Turner, for malfeasance in office, as Inspectors of Election in the First district of the Twentieth ward, at the late election, the magistrate issued warrants for their arrest, which on Tuesday issued warrants for their arrest, which on Tuesday evening were executed by Captain Stevenson and officer Titus, of the Sixteenth ward police On his return to Chief Matsell yesterday morning, Captain S. ways—"These parties were arrested on a warrant issued by Justice Stnart, wherein they stand charged with corruptly and criminally falsifying, altering and forging the just and lawful canvass ballots and returns for charter officers, from the First district of the Twentieth ward. They parties were the Isspectors of Election for the above named district at the general election, on the 8th instant. There were laken before Justice Stuart, and gave bail in the sum of $2,000 cach, to appear and answer.

Upon the examination of these men, it appeared that they had returned to the County Clerk the following statement of the ballotings in their district:—Cummings H. Tucker as having received 55 votes; Wm. McConkey, 190; Martin, 76; Clark, 38; O'Donohue, 22; and C. Tuck, 38—whole number of votes, 422.

It seems that the fraud charged is, that the defendants caused to be printed a number of tickets headed "C. Tucker," some of which were clandestinely substituted, after the election, for bona fide ballots bearing the name of "Cummings H. Tucker," thus giving the election to the free soil candi tate for Alderman, Wm. McConkey.

Measures are being taken to ferret out every particular at all relating to this charge.

William Turner, Hugh Mooney and William Murray, napectors of election for the First district of the Twen tieth ward, were arrested on Tuesday evening by Captain Stevenson, of the Sixteenth ward police, on complaint of Mr. Alexander Gedney, who charges them with corruptly and criminally falsifying, altering and forging the just and lawful canvass ballots and returns for charter officers from the First district of the Twentieth ward. They were taken before Justice Stuart and held to bail each in $2,000 to answer. Alderman Peck, Assistant Alderman McConkey, end a Mr. Tucker became their sureties. The fraud appears to have consisted in the accused, or one of them, abstracting about thirty-five tickets marked "Cummings A. Tucker," after the election was over, and putting is their place thirty-five more marked "C. Tucker." Cumdemocratic candidate for alderman in that ward. By this manocurre the thirty-five votes marked "C. Tucker" were manceuvie the thirty-five votes marked "C. Tucker" were not counted for "Cummings H. Tucker," and thus that geatleman lost his election by about ten votes.

The following affidavits, in relation to the matter, tell the whole story, and are well worthy of perusal:—
Cummings H. Turker, sworn, says: That he has great reason to believe, and does believe, that in the Twentieth ward, at the election on the 8th inst., there was a gross and criminal fraud perpetrated in the matter and fact of canvassing and certifying the ballots voted in the First district of said ward, to the utter violation of law, the great wrong of the legal and duly qualited voters, and to the prejudice of the rights and benefit of the elective franchise of every good citizen, and finally, to the sacrifice of every public virtue and the defeat of the ends of public justice; and this deponent adds, that as he is informed and verily believes, Caspar C. John V. Gridley, of No. 232 West Thirty first street, sworm, says;—That on the moraing of Thursday, the 10th instant, Hugh Money, one of the inspectors of election of the First Blection district of the Twentieth ward, may come the previous Tuesday, and deponent and come on the previous Tuesday, and deponent and come on the previous Tuesday, and deponent and come on the day of the election; said Mooney then put his hand in his pocket and took out two tickets, and said "here is one," and then put the ticket back in his pocket idepenent asked him to give him one of the tickets, he at first refused to do so, but finally gave deponent the ticket new here (marked B) and attached to the affidavis of Mr. Baptitate, deponent further says that he has seen the return made by the inspectors of election of the First district of the Twentie h ward, to the County Clerk, of the training of the training the following rotes:—For Wm. acris they have returned the following rotes:—For Wm. acris and they have returned the following rotes:—For Wm. acris and they have returned the following rotes:—For Wm. acris and the health of the first Election district of the Twentieth ward in his possession; he also stated that the reason why they did a possession; he also stated that the reason why they did a possession; he also stated that the reason why they did a possession; he also stated that the reason why they did a possession; he would allow deponent to be present; as they stated that they had adjourned to meet at Mr. Turner's honse, it being a private house, the ticket as they were counted

Nov. 16.—James Foungs against Lucas and Hills—This was an action brought by a parent to recover damages against defendants for inveiging away Robert, the plaintiff's son, a youth of some eighteen years of age, from his father's service, and inducing him to ship upon a whaling voyage, without the consent of his father. The evidence disclosed that the defendant Hilts kept an outfitting and anilor's clothing store on the east sice of the city, and that he sometimes exhibited in front of his premises a United States flag. With the labourous it Segment and the service of the city, and that he sometimes exhibited in front of his premises a sailor's clothing store on the east side of the city, and that he sometimes exhibited in front of his premises a United States flag, with the label upon it, "Seamen wanted for the United States nay." It was also proven that when the boy was in his (H. 2) store, H. put upon him a blue shirt, and went out with him, saying, "Come along; I never knew that shirt deceive me yet." The proof further was, that the boy's mother made inquiry of H., and he called in Lucas, and they mutually admitted the boy to have been shipped by Lucas, who keeps a shipping office; and, also, it further appeared that this was at the instigation of Hiits. Both the defendants agreed with plaintiff swife to restore her son, upon the payment of $18; which sum she deposited with Hilts, to be paid over to Lucas upon the boy's return, which last event has not yet occurred. The Court rendered a verdict for plaintiff $200 damages, and costs and allowance. This action was for illegally detaining personal property belonging to plaintiff. From the evidence it appeared that plain tiff had a judgment against the defendant Funk and one Reed, who carried on business at Nos. 101 and 103 Elizabeth street, and issued an execution to the sheriff, who sold out all the right, title, and interest of Reed & Funk to plaintiff. Plaintiff then went and claimed possession of certain personal property in the premises, which was refused him, and for which he brings this suit. It farther appeared that the defendant Mager, previous to the recovery of plaintiff sjudgment, had in goed faith taken a mortgage on all the property than such as was exposed to his view, or of which he made a memorandum. 24, That this court could not entire to fix any value on the right, title and interest of the parties Funk & Reed, in the premises, until evidence was given of the value of the whole, from which the mertgages should be deducted. The Court non-suited the leafing should be deducted.

Nov. 16.—Abijah Brown, exidow, (a citizen of the State of Pennsylvania,) v. James Lenoz, a citizen of New York; same vs. Eti. White; same vs. Wm. H. Johnson.—The above suits are brought by the above plaintiff for the recovery of the property of which Jacob Jarden died seized. The property for which these suits are brought is a part of that property now occupied by the defendants, on Fifth arenue and Iwelfth street, in the city of New York. The property in dispute is said to be worth several millions of deliars, and embracing about one hundred and fifty lets between the Bowery and Fifth arenue, and Elevest hand Fourteenth streets, and one hundred end forty-one lets between Thirtieth and Thirty third streets and Sixth and Ninth avenues, and about one hundred end forty-one lets between Thirtieth and Thirty third streets and Sixth and Ninth avenues, and about one hundred lots in various other parts of the city, now in possession of a great number of parties. An application was made before Judge Nelson that the plaintiff file security for costs to the amount of one thousand dollars on each sait, she being a non-resident. The defendants, in support of their application, alleged that it was currently reported that a large sum had been raised or secured for the purpose of carrying on the said suits, and that the plaintiff had parted with all her interest in the property, and that these suits were instituted and carried on for the benefit of others. These several allegations were all cealed by plaintiff on her own eath, and she alleged that she was now here on a visit to her friends, that she had a direct personal fateret in the property, that the suits were instituted to establish her righ s and to recover possession of the property; that she was a widow, without other pecuniary means than what was necessary for her support; that she was to was advised that her title was good and must prevail; and that she believed the object of their applications, or costs was to str

They probably have well weighed matters and things, and their conclusions may be just and correct; but we must differ from them and all others who believe that financial affairs have been relieved from the difficulties and embarrass-ments which have so recently appeared. The actual cause is deeper than is generally imagined. The credit system of the country has been, and still is, so much in-flated, and its ramifications extend so far into the opera-tions of all classes, that any derangement must be felt to the remotest section of the country. The fast that the banks of this city have within the past three menths contracted their loans and discounts about four teen millions of dollars, and increased their specie basis, banks will soon commence an expansion. The contraction will for a time be sustained, if it does not become still greater. The banks are by no means in a strong posi-tion, with all the liquidation that has been going on, and it will require the utmost caution on the part of our bank managers to preserve even their present equivocal strength. The commercial classes are enormously extend-ed in their business operations, and nothing short of a and heavy clouds must close in upon them, and for a time shut out all hope. It will require months of liquidation and contraction to place us all right again; and if we get

The ups and downs of General expenses, salaries, &c.... analysis of a sound and solutions. The ups and downs of fancy stocks are influenced more by local matters than in any other way. Other causes, of course, have their effect; but the bulls and bears manage fancy stocks in a way pe-culiar to themselves. The money market is not always a regulator. Within the past ten days, the fancies have ac-vanced 4 and 5 per cent in the face of a very stringent market, when money is worth full 1 per cent a month on the best business paper, and difficult to get at that. This advance, however, is merely nominal. It is all among certain cliques, but it enables outsiders who desire to realize, to do so at high prices. In this way the street daily increases its supply of stock, and the carrying trade becomes pretty extensive. It would be exceedingly gratifying to us to be able to see things connected with the financial world in a brighter light, but it is entirely out of the question. There is no use of disguising the fact. The fagure locks gloomy, and those who are most experienced look forward with a good deal of apprehension. Holders and buyers of fancy, or even substantial paper securities, may occasi nally realize gleams of sunshine; but dark and heavy clouds must close in upon them, and for a time vanced 4 and 5 per cent in the face of a very stringent mar-

Ohio river, there is every evidence before us of a revenue from April, 1853, to April, 1854, of three millions of dollars, gathered from passengers, coal and trade. It will surely in one year after the track is laid, connected as it will then be with the Central Ohio Railroad, yield from passen by the president of the company, as follows:-

an increase in the month this year, of $139,404 17.

The Jamestown (Chautauque) Journal says, in reference to the reported embarrassments of the Chautauque County Bank upon the suspension of the Patchin Bank:

The reason fer this distruct doubtless is the fact that Mr. Patchin is owner of quits a large amount of stock of this bank, and an inference that he might have drawn largely upon its credit.

The real facts are, that while Mr. P. is owner of about half the stock of the bank, he is not a dettor to it to the amount of a dollar, and neither his failure, nor that of the Parchin Banh, can in any measure affect this bank. Depositors and bill holders are abundantly secured, and need entertain no apprehension of embarrassment or depreciation.

The object of this detailed report at this time, is given by the president of the company, as follows:—

TOTHE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF BLITMORE—
GENTIMEN:—I have been instructed by the Board of Directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company to inferm the city authorities of the need that company is new suffering for capital to complete their road to the city of Wheeling, and to ask their assistance in the form of an endorsement by the city upon the bonds of the company, for the purpose of raising by credit the money required for that purpose.

In order to your government in considering this question, I present (documents A, B and C,) a faithful state ment of the receipts by subscription and by credit af the present capital, and the expenditure thereof—a statement of the receipts by subscription and by credit af the purpose of showing the vast increase of trade since the lat of April last, when the road was amounced to be ready to receive all through tonnage, and regularly to transport it, and an estimate of revenue after a further expenditure of five n illions of collars.

My instructions are to ask at this present time, only for so much as should be expended in the ensuing twelve or eighteen months, which is estimated at five millions of dollars, and is believed to be the full extent of aid required from the city to complete the road. The necessity for the large additional outlay of capital in a second track is the only estimate demanding an explanation to those not acquainted with facts developed to proof by the business of the past six months. The amount of trade now offering, differing as it does in its character, and therefore subject to various rates of speed upon the road, is far to large to be transported with safety and economy upon a single track; so that a second track as far as Piedmont 235 miles from this city, is absolutely necesary in view of the immesse quantity of coal now demanding transport, of the junction at Cumberland with the Pittsburg and Connellaville, and at Fetterman with the

The dry goods business is still devoid of activity and firmness, owing mainly to the lateness of the season, and partly to the severe financial pressure; yet owners of desirable fabrics experience little difficulty in disposing of all they wish to sell, at fair prices, as the demand for such preductions, though of a retail character, is rela tively more extensive than the available stocks in martheir this state of aff. irs demonstrates the true policy for the adoption of manufacturers. Let these but strive more to elevate the character of their goods, as well as to render them attractive to buyers, and less te produce large quantities, regardless of quality, as well as to effect heavy sairs, on (as we have frequently had occasion to remark,) very doubtful conditions, and they will assure 1-ly find the result of such exertions both beneficial to themselves and to their customers. Heavy brown sheet ings and shirtings are moderately active and firm, being in reduced supply. Bleached sheetings and shirtings of desir able kinds and ready buyers at full rates. There is, however, a considerable amount of unpopular styles offering, at ra ther lower prices; but such descriptions are not needed at present. Cotton flannels are sparingly dealt in at languid figures. Leading makes of denims are quite saleable and steady, though the stock on hand is augmenting gradually. Drills are in pretty good request, at 7%c. for browns, 7%c. a 8c. for bleached, and 9c. a 9%c. for browns, 7%c. a 8c. for bleached, and 9c. a 9%c. fer blues. No important change has occurred in cuckwhich sells freely and on lucratice terms. Giaghams are still in demand at 11c. Lawns are unaltered. Nankeens are in light stock and not much needed. Their value is mominally unchanged. Osnaburgs a e comparatively scarce and in brisk request at buoyant prices. Printing cloths appear rather more active, but otherwise unimproved. The trade in prints is now exceedingly light, and or such goods former quotations are not easily procured tripes are in comparatively fair demand and very firm Ticks, too, seem pretty saleable and steady. The sales at the board were again very kmited to-day.

Ulster cannot rise above 2; and, from the complaints which we hear of the management we are hardly surprised at it. Were there not some cause at work of which the public knows nothing, the facts published in the last report, signed by the Treasurer, would have driven the stock much nearer par long before this. The Lindsay, of which over one thousand shares were sold at 65 cents, is connected with the Deep River, which sells at 45 and 50 cents. What the par of these valuable con-45 and 50 cents. What the par of these valuable concerns may be we are not able to say. The Deep River was bought, as we understand, from an English company, which had worked it unsuccessfully for some time; and divided among the originators of the scheme at a nomi nal price, nor how many shares were reserved and dis tributed among an enterprising public at a dollar or two.

mai price, nor now many snares were reserved and carributed among an enterprising public at a dollar or two. According to the usual custom in such matters, however, there ought to have been some fifty thousand dollars or so subscribed to work the mine What has become of this meney? How does it happen that we hear of bonds to be issued? Operators should look into this. North Carolina has too good a reputation to be lost.

We regret to learn that the Mineral Land Company have not succeeded in cutting the vein of the North Carolina Copper Company, which was supposed to intersect their property. Two shafts were sunk, one sixty, the other one hundred and twenty feet deep; but notwithstanding all the perseverance and skill of the managers of the Mineral company, no trace of the vein could be found. This fact, when we bear in mind that the shafts were not more than eighty yards distance from the spot where the North Carolina Company are working, would seem to east doubts on the reliability of their vein.

By the list published elsewhere it will be seen that Montgomery Mining ound a spirited purchaser to give 30 cents for it; St Lawrence, whose managers promise a better time coming, fetched 85 cents Fulton continues to sell at 1% at Boston; no sales here that we hear of.
